Jacket Journey is a week of fun and preparation for incoming freshmen and transfer students prior to the start of the fall semester. New students move into their dorm rooms and participate in fun activities such as a shaving cream fight and slip-and-slide. When returning students arrive at the end of the week, everyone comes together for the street party.
JACKET JOURNEY: PART 2
The Baptist Student Ministry’s IMPACT Weekend, held in early September, enjoyed another successful year.

Fifty-five HPU students went into the Brownwood community and served at Hope Home, Good Samaritan, the State School, and The Boys and Girls Club. At these locations, the students served by talking with partakers of the ministries, organizing and cleaning up, and playing and spending time with kids.

“It was a two-fold goal: To make an impact in the community and to show students how they can serve throughout their time at HPU,” said BSM Director Keith Platte. “My favorite part of IMPACT was seeing the students excited about serving.”
Many of Howard Payne’s incoming freshmen, along with several returning students and staff members, spent a Saturday in August serving the Brownwood community.

The university’s Serving With A Right Motive (S.W.A.R.M.) project is held each year in conjunction with Jacket Journey, HPU’s week-long new-student orientation.

Approximately 140 volunteers—coordinated by Keep Brownwood Beautiful—completed community service projects at a variety of locations including Brownwood Area Community Garden, the Corinne T. Smith Animal Shelter and Lake Brownwood.
Daze of Payne is a weeklong freshman initiation that provides a fun, messy and crazy way for new students to get to know HPU. Daze of Payne has been a campus tradition since 1920, and participation is voluntary. Activities include the Beanie ceremony, Beanie decorating and bowling, paynt games, and the tug of war during the football game at the end of the week.

Meet the Greeks was held Feb. 3, 2015 at Fambrough’s. It gave students the opportunity to learn more about the student organizations at Howard Payne.
On March 2-3, Howard Payne hosted theatre companies from Hardin-Simmons and Wayland Baptist for the Christian University Theatre Festival (CUTF). Although, CUTF is not a competition, the entire cast of HPU’s presentation, “Terre Haute” received distinction as Outstanding Festival Performer. Three HPU students received Outstanding Achievement in Acting awards: Megan Hoghaug, Bryce McWhirter, and Brittany Martin.
Spring Sing, an annual inter-organizational competition consisting of skits, singing and dancing, was held March 20-21 in Mims. The theme was “Night at the Cinema.”

Sigma Theta Phi, winner of Spring Sing in 2013, made a comeback and took the $800 first-place prize.

The combined efforts of HPU band groups Kappa Kappa Psi and Tau Beta Sigma finished second and earned $500.

Third place and $300 went to Alpha Psi Omega.

The $150 Character Award, based on outstanding character and adherence throughout Spring Sing, was presented to Delta Chi Rho.

Afshin Ziafat and Kevin Jones led Encounter Week, Howard Payne’s annual fall revival that was held Sept. 22-24, 2014.

Ziafat, the guest speaker, was born in Houston but moved to his family’s native Iran when he was 2 years old. The family returned to Houston when Ziafat was 6. Ten years after being given a Bible, Ziafat read the Bible and converted to Christianity – a decision that led to his family disowning him. Ziafat currently is lead pastor at Providence Church in Frisco. Jones, the music leader, is a singer, songwriter and guitarist who grew up in Dallas. He is a worship minister at Stonegate Church in Midlothian.
Resurrection Week, the annual springtime revival at Howard Payne, was held March 30-31 and April 1 in Mims. The speaker was Mike Satterfield, founder of Field of Grace Ministries. Satterfield also is the Teaching Pastor at Fielder Church in Arlington. Song worship was led by the Mike Romero Band out of Houston. Originally from Seattle, Mike Romero moved to Texas in 1998 and later became a full-time student minister at First Baptist Church in Magnolia.

Danyel Bradley (right) and former HPU player and current Lady Jackets head coach Meia Daniels (left) both are members of HPU's career 1,000-point club.

HPU’s Danyel Bradley received multiple postseason honors, including both NCAA Division III All-America women’s basketball teams. D3hoops.com named Bradley a third-team All-American. The Women’s Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA) made Bradley an honorable mention All-America selection. Also, D3hoops.com named Bradley as its South Regional Player of the Year for 2014-15. Additionally, Bradley was named Player of the Year in the American Southwest Conference after leading the league in scoring. Her 22.3 per-game averaging also led all NCAA III women’s scorers. Bradley’s 602 points were the most scored by an ASC player in a single season since former HPU player and current Lady Jackets’ head coach Meia Daniels set the conference record with 649 points in 2008. The 5-foot-5 junior also led the ASC in steals with 93, and was named to the ASC All-Defensive Team.
STUDENT LIFE
HPU ended the 2014 fall semester with the annual “Mustache Wheel of Doom” fundraiser sponsored by the Baptist Student Ministry. The popular event raised $2,933 for missions and left several HPU men with interesting facial hair throughout final exams week.

Teams of students, along with their faculty and staff sponsors, grew their beards throughout November while collecting money for the Baptist General Convention of Texas’ Go Now Missions. Go Now sends students from universities across Texas, including HPU, to mission fields around the world.

Three HPU students took part in Go Now experiences in 2014-15. Ruby Johnson and Xavier McFalls both served in the mission field during Christmas break. Rebekah Steadman served overseas during the spring semester.

The teams that raised the least amount of money spun the “Mustache Wheel of Doom” and shaved in whichever style the wheel determined. This year’s choices included stripes, half-beards, “No-Tee Goatees” and more.

STUDENT SPIRIT
Renovations to the Mabee University Center were completed by Homecoming weekend, Oct. 24-26, 2014.

Fambrough’s moved downstairs. The Student Life Office moved upstairs. The entire building received a makeover – a look that was described as “industrial chic,” “modern,” and “clean,” with some minimalistic undertones. The entire floor plan has a much more open feel, making Mabee appear larger than life.

There is a blue and gold presence throughout the building in the carpet, paint, and special wall graphics designed by HPU’s Office of University Marketing and Communication. The graphics will represent HPU visually through images of students, campus landmarks, and sports.
The Show Hope Red Bus Project came to Howard Payne on Oct. 13, 2014. The British Double-Decker Thrift Store has reached out to more than 220,000 students on 60 college campuses in an attempt to help orphans. HPU students, faculty and staff were able to shop in the thrift store, and had the chance to help provide families for waiting orphans around the world. For more information, log onto ShowHope.org.

HPU band fraternity and sorority dedicate trailer in memory of former students

Howard Payne's chapters of Kappa Kappa Psi and Tau Beta Sigma, national honorary band fraternity and sorority, recently transformed the trailer which hauls equipment and instruments for the Yellow Jacket Band. The groups have dedicated the trailer in memory of two students who passed away while members of the band – Chris Jones (1987-2011) and Jeremy Lewis (1979-2000).

The upgraded trailer features a vinyl wrap which depicts images of the band and commemorates the lives of Jones and Lewis.

In February 2015, Howard Payne lost a current student and a former student.

On Feb. 2, current HPU student Kellee Taylor Morgan Greenwood died. Ashley Moon, a friend of Kellee’s and editor of the Yellow Jacket, wrote a tribute in the Feb. 12 editions of the HPU student newspaper. Here is some of that tribute:

“Several times throughout my life, I have pondered “What is the point of life?” Regardless of my age, my level of intelligence, my physical location or my spiritual state, I have always ended up with the same answer. I believe that the point of life is to enjoy whatever time we have and to help others enjoy their time as well.

I thought about this after Kellee died and realized that her life was the perfect depiction of my definition.

One of Kellee’s most unique qualities was that she was always doing something. There was never a dull moment with her. She was constantly laughing, learning and exploring.

Kellee was a member of Spanish Club, Archery Club, Chi Alpha Omega, Gamma Beta Phi and the Yellow Jacket, just to name a few campus organizations. You would never find Kellee lounging around at home by herself. If she wasn’t studying, she was crafting. If she wasn’t making new friends, she was catching up with old ones. If she wasn’t cooking dinner for her family, she was out having a picnic at the park. If she wasn’t bedazzling an old dress, she was spicing up her room.

I’ve never met a person more active.

It was obvious that Kellee enjoyed life and wanted to soak up as much as she could get. Her laughter was constant and contagious. Her joy overflowed to the people with whom she came in contact.

Kellee never met a stranger. She was so open and welcoming to anyone and everyone. Sophomore Devin Mendelson remembered Kellee in saying, “My favorite thing about her was the way she inspired and touched so many people, regardless of if she knew them for a second or a lifetime.”

On Feb. 12, HPU graduate Kelley Raye Miller Herman died in Fort Worth at age 23. Herman held a master’s degree in Business Administration, and three bachelor’s degrees from HPU in Political Science, Business Administration, and Academy of Freedom.

Below is part of an article in the Feb. 26 Yellow Jacket newspaper by Lazhay Winn:

Herman was attending Texas A&M Law School when doctors discovered she had a rare case of malignant myoepithelioma in her labial. Myoepithelioma is a salivary gland tumor of the head and neck that is usually benign.

Herman was described by friends as an avid student. No one and nothing could keep her from accomplishing her goals. She touched the lives of many of her fellow students and professors with her unsurpassable work ethic while attending HPU.

“She was an inspiration to other students by her work ethic and she produced quality work,” said Dr. Les Plagens, dean of the HPU School of Business and professor of Business Administration. “She was a leader among her fellow classmates. I have always tried to teach my students that dreams become reality through hard work. She embodied that belief.”

Herman was survived by her parents, Terry and Darla (Holland) Miller of Fort Worth and her husband, Zachary Edward Herman.
